E. Descriptions of Major Assignments and Examinations

Course Assignment and Grading

1. Critical Reflection Paper: This paper is an exercise of critical self-reflection based on previous knowledge and/or personal and professional experiences with intimate partner violence (IPV). The paper will describe, summarize or narrate something lived, witnessed or learned. It will include a thoughtful critical analysis considering your personal ideas, perspectives, beliefs, values and practices (practices as expressions and behaviors) over time. You will specifically compare the ideas, perspectives, beliefs, values and attitudes you had before taking this course and after completing the In Their Shoes educational experience. Consider ethical dilemmas that you faced in the experience. A rubric will be provided in class. This assignment assesses competencies 1 & 2.

2. Group Discussion Leading: You will work with a group of peers to lead one hour of class. You will be expected to address the theme of the day, encorporate active learning strategies for your classmates, and provide a review of key readings and concepts for the week. Students will sign up for groups/topics based on their areas of interst. More information will be provided in class. This assignment assess competencies 2, 6, 7, & 8.

3. Safety Plan: To integrate the knowledge acquired on IPV during the course you will develop a safety plan (intervention plan) grounded on evidence based research and practices. You must consider the client’s/participant’s strengths, diversity and social justice. This assignment will lead you to critically analyze theoretical models of practice in IPV cases. A case and guideline will be provided to complete this assignment. A rubric will be provided in class. This assignment assesses competencies 6, 7, & 8.

4. Participation: Participation in the course includes active engagement in discussions, completion of session specific activities, and completion of in vivo practice experiences assigned in class or online over the course of the semester. This assignment assesses competencies 1, 2, 6, 7, & 8.

F. Attendance

At The University of Texas at Arlington, taking attendance is not required but attendance is a critical indicator in student success. Each faculty member is free to develop his or her own methods of evaluating students' academic performance, which includes establishing course-specific policies on attendance. However, while UT Arlington does not require instructors to take attendance in their courses, the U.S. Department of Education requires that the University have a mechanism in place to mark when Federal Student Aid recipients "begin attendance in a course." UT Arlington instructors will report when students begin attendance in a course as part of the final grading process. Specifically, when assigning a student a grade of F, faculty report the last date a student attended their class based on evidence such as a test, participation in a class project or presentation, or an engagement online via Blackboard. This date is reported to the Department of Education for federal financial aid recipients. As the instructor of this section, students are expected to attend for the whole length of all scheduled class sessions and engage as a positive and thoughtful participant in class activities and discussions. Up to two absences for any reason will be allowed without negatively impacting the student’s participation grade. After two absences participation points will be deducted.

G. Grading

General grading criteria for work include: logical development of concepts, thoroughness, critical thinking and clarity of written and/or verbal expression, application of course content and independent research, and appropriateness of the product to the assignment given. Students are advised to maintain back-up copies of all assignments kept on computer disks, networks or hard drives. In most cases, expect the professor to grade assignments within 2 weeks of the due date. If you have questions about your grade, check the online gradebook. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) (20 U.S.C. § 1232g; 34 CFR Part 99) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of university students and severely limits the professor’s ability to discuss grades over the internet or phone. Consequently, the professor discusses grades in person. Do not email professor about your grades from an email account other than MavMail.

Finally, a word about grades in general: Grades are not a reflection of your value as a person. They are a reflection of the reality of balancing school with other responsibilities, as well as your level of effort. Grades also reflect the extent to which the content of a course fits with your existing knowledge and skills, which will vary from course to course. What is most important is that you are challenged and that you learn.

Students are expected to keep track of their performance throughout the semester and seek guidance from available sources (including the instructor) if their performance drops below satisfactory levels; see “Student Support Services,” below.

H. Make-Up Exams

No exams are included in this course, and no make-up exams will be given. Late work will be accepted only in exceptional circumstances. If you think you may miss an assignment deadline, please communicate with the instructor as soon as possible!

Should we experience an emergency event that requires us to vacate the building, students should exit the room and move toward the nearest exits, which are the stairwells located at either end of the adjacent hallway. When exiting the building during an emergency, one should never take an elevator but should use the stairwells. Faculty members and instructional staff will assist students in selecting the safest route for evacuation and will make arrangements to assist individuals with disabilities.

O. Drop Policy

Students may drop or swap (adding and dropping a class concurrently) classes through self-service in MyMav from the beginning of the registration period through the late registration period. After the late registration period, students must see their academic advisor to drop a class or withdraw. Undeclared students must see an advisor in the University Advising Center. Drops can continue through a point two-thirds of the way through the term or session. It is the student’s responsibility to officially withdraw if they do not plan to attend after registering. Students will not be automatically dropped for non-attendance. Repayment of certain types of financial aid administered through the University may be required as the result of dropping classes or withdrawing. For more information, contact the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarships (http://wweb.uta.edu/aao/fao/).

Instructions on how to access the SFS for this course will be sent directly to each student through MavMail approximately 10 days before the end of the term. Each student’s feedback via the SFS database is aggregated with that of other students enrolled in the course. Students’ anonymity will be protected to the extent that the law allows. UT Arlington’s effort to solicit, gather, tabulate, and publish student feedback is required by state law and aggregate results are posted online. Data from SFS is also used for faculty and program evaluations. For more information, visit http://www.uta.edu/sfs.

W. Final Review Week

For semester-long courses, a period of five class days prior to the first day of final examinations in the long sessions shall be designated as Final Review Week. The purpose of this week is to allow students sufficient time to prepare for final examinations. During this week, there shall be no scheduled activities such as required field trips or performances; and no instructor shall assign any themes, research problems or exercises of similar scope that have a completion date during or following this week unless specified in the class syllabus. During Final Review Week, an instructor shall not give any examinations constituting 10% or more of the final grade, except makeup tests and laboratory examinations. In addition, no instructor shall give any portion of the final examination during Final Review Week. During this week, classes are held as scheduled.
